MUST HANG.

Further Efforts to save the Doomed Couple.

A large meeting of residents of Elko, in which ladies predominated, assembled in the Court-house at that place last Saturday evening to make a further attempt to secure a commutation of the sentence of Josiah and Elizabeth Potts to life imprisonment. In view of the fact that two appeals had been made to the Board of Pardons without avail, and after reading telegrams indicating the utter hopelessness of any further attempts in behalf of the prisoners the general sentiment of those who took part in the discussion was that everything which could be done had already been done in behalf of the condemned prisoners, unless some entirely new feature in the case should be developed which might have a tendency to change the opinion of the members of the Board of Pardons.

COAST NEWS.

William Bennett, a rancher, was drowned in the flooded tules seven miles north of Rio Vista, Cal., Sunday.

The heat was so intense last Sunday in the back country of San Diego county, Cal., that it melted the honey in the hives.

Frank L. Wielbern, an old and wealthy citizen of Mariposa, Cal., accidentally took an overdose of laudanum and killed himself, Sunday.

The warehouse-men of Sanger, Fresno county, Cal., encourage bull snakes to roam about their grain stacks, as they kill so many rats and mice.

Joseph R. Grosjean, a young man, was assassinated in the Red Mountain district, in Mariposa county, Cal., Saturday. It is not known who did the killing.

A $300 nugget of gold, with about two ounces of quartz, was found by two miners two miles east of Shasta a few days ago, in what is known as Pocket Dig-gings.

Until recently the Chinese have experienced no difficulty in crossing at Tia Juana into San Diego, but since Collector of the Port Berry and Marshal Guard have succeeded in capturing about forty Mongolians at that place, that route has been abandoned.

The residence of C. G. Smith, five miles south of Merced, Cal., was burned Monday. The fire communicated to the barn and thence to the grain, and for five hours the flames held control. From 800 to 1,000 men soon were at work, but it was not until sunset that the wind ceased and the fire was extinguished. The extent of land burned over was a strip of about thirteen miles in length. The losses will reach quite $20,000.

A GOOD ONE.

The Sacramento Res on Senator Fair.

The Sacramento Bee thus lays the whip over the shoulders of ex-Senator Fair:

"The Builders of the Commonwealth" is the name of a panegyric on pigmies, gotten up by the History Company, at so much a page, to flatter the vanity of rich men of San Francisco who appear to make up in dollars what they lack in sense. When a man like ex-Senator Fair—whose purse always pucker up at the approach of charity—will open wide the door of his safe to give $5,000 for an eulogium which ought to make him blush for the difference between his reality and ideality made out for him—when he thus "stands and delivers" at the very first, faint notes of the taffy brigade, what must we expect of the common run of mortals who are usually supposed not to be above the potent and inductive spell of flattery? No wonder the History Company has panned out so well on this lay. But of what avail has it been to the unfortunate victims of this literary grab? They are the laughing stock of the community. If the History Company says that James G. Fair is a statesman, we simply smile at the absurd statement. But if it is shown that James G. Fair paid $5,000 to prevail upon the History Company to thus insult the intelligence of the community, we might admire the audacity of the publishers, but we could not but have a very low water-mark idea of the common intelligence of Fair. The latter gentlemen should have such a supreme contempt for any paper or publication which would crown him with the laurels of statesmanship—that he would pay them a round sum not to repeat the offense.

Not only was ex-Senator Fair one of the sublime suckers in the scheme, but Governor Waterman is said to have dropped $1,000 into the general pot. Both gentlemen can spare the money, but it is doubtful if they can afford the loss of the credit of what little common sense was still attributed to them.

The Carson Mint.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Bartine of Nevada this morning introduced a bill for the enlargement and improvement of the melting and refining department of the mint at Carson City. The bill provides for an enlargement to double the present capacity, or to such an extent as can be done by the expenditure of $15,000. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to acquire for said purchase, by the purchases or condemnation or otherwise, a block of land lying immediately west, together with the intervening street, if the same can be acquired without cost from the authorities of Carson City, the said block of land to cost not more than $3,500. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the act, $3,500 is appropriated, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Townsendisms.

The following are clipped from the Homer Index:

Senator Stanford has skipped out and left his colleagues to bear the brunt of the silver fight. It don't look nice.

John Sherman calls Senator Stewart of Nevada "a schemer from the West." John is a gold-bug from Wall street.

R. P. Porter, the census fiend wants us to do a whole lot of work for nothing. Of course we'll do it—as the boy hoed his mother's cabbages.

A correspondent asks us to name the supposed candidates for the various county offices. We advise him to take the Great Register and help himself.

His Money Was There.

ED. APPEAL.—The statement in the Tribune that "Furlong, the backer of Dobbins failed to put up the said $500" is untrue. I deposited $1000 in the Bullion Exchange Bank last Monday, it being the time verbally agreed upon by Dr. Reed and myself.

THE FREE COINAGE BILL

How It Was Received in the House.

WASHINGTON, JUNE 18.—The Silver bill as amended by the Senate was presented to the House at 12:45. It was received with tremendous applause by the Democratic side, and Bland immediately moved that the committee rise, in order that the House might at once proceed to consideration of the bill.

Peel, of Arkansas, who had the floor, was induced to yield, but the Chairman of the Committee (Allen, of Michigan,) directed the clerk to continue the reading of a long printed precedent bearing upon the point of order thereon under discussion. At the conclusion of the reading Bland's motion was put and was defeated on a standing vote of 79 to 89. On a vote by tellers the Committee refused to rise—Yeas 94, nays 105, Mutchler and Vaux voting with the Republicans.

No RACE.—Last night Rosenthal of Hawthorne and Dr. Reed his backer, were in the city. They wanted the $500 forfeit money, but refused to make any further race. Furlong refused to pay the forfeit, but offered them a race for $3,000 and let them name the stakeholder. They declined and the race is off.

Mr. Evans, who lives near Selma, Fresno county, Cal., had his barn, hay and a set of harness destroyed by fire Sunday. His son a lad of seven years, is deaf and dumb, and is also afflicted with a penchant for large fires, and set the building on fire to see it burn.

For stylish millinery, neat work, and low prices go to Mrs. Maude Stine's. A fine assortment of both trimmed and untrimmed hats. Children's fine hats a specialty. Sailor hats in red, navy blue and brown, 50 cents each. Ladies sun hats 50 cents each. No trouble to show goods.
